Mr. DECLAN HAMMOND

Soul Medicine

Declan Hammond LCH, IHom is a homeopath, transpersonal therapist and shamanic practitioner, co-founder and former director of The Irish School of Homeopathy. His life and work has been a passionate search for the most effective healing tools for himself and his patients.

His passion is working with people challenged by non-ordinary states of consciousness, who are undergoing Spiritual Emergency/Psychosis type experiences. He has a particular interest in drug harm reduction and plant medicine integration work and is a co-founder and Chair-Person of the Irish festival welfare charity, Psycare Ireland.

His own personal healing journey has given him a unique perspective on the challenges men face and the ability to create and hold safe supportive spaces for men's healing. He works with individual men, couples and in men's healing circles.
